Program-Centered Plan

Initial Meeting Date: 02/21/22
Management and Consultant's Discovery

The following pages are a culmination of information gathered by this team. This information will contribute to the future goals and action steps of the organization. The discovery and plan will be reviewed at least yearly. This is a living document, and may change as needed.

Throughout this packet, different colors identify different things!

Green = Positive
Blue = Neutral
Red = More of a Concern
Black = General

Vision:

What are the goals for your agency/programming?

Guidelines for Vision:
- It is NOT a traditional vision statement used for marketing purposes.
- It is a statement that should be reflected on for all questions or thoughts which arise through the entire process.
- It should be questioned and reviewed on occasion to see if it still falls in line with where you are and where you want to be.
- Think of this statement as a living and breathing statement. It is something that can and will change as this project or your program changes and grows.

Samples:
- To develop a culture at our center where youth and young adults with disabilities can have opportunities to learn, grow, experience and guide their individual transitions to adulthood.

- To provide programming and resources, related to independent living skills, to youth, young adults, and their families in our area. Working with other transition entities to assist the youth or young adult in making the transition to adulthood and achieving his or her goals.

Relationships:

People we know or with whom we have connections. People closest to it (e.g. staff, strong partners) go in the middle circle. Those outside the circle should be other funders and partners or those you know and are connected with, but are not as close as others.
